“An amazing experience for multiple disciplines to come together and share a common vision for healthcare.”

Collaboration in Action: Advancing Integrative Health through Research, Education, Clinical Practice and Policy

“The Congress where you can expect to be engaged, intrigued, enlightened and revitalized.”

“The leading conference on Integrative Medicine and Health.”

The Consortium's 2018 International Congress on Integrative Medicine & Health will bring together the best and the brightest working in the field of Integrative Medicine & Health. Connect, share, learn and collaborate in this dynamic community where the best work is being done via research, clinical care, policy and education. A key partner in planning and co-sponsoring the Congress is the International Society for Complementary Medicine Research (ISCMR).
